MAXWELL BACK AGAIN.

The Alleged Murderer of Peller Arrives in St. Louis Yesterday.

The Trunk Manufacturer Recognizes Him as the Man Who Bought the Box.

He Is Unwilling to Talk to the Reporters, Thinking That in Silence There is Safety.

Maxwell's Return to St. Louis.

St. Louis, August 16.—Walter A. Lennox Maxwell, alias T. C. Dainger, alias Hugh M. Brooks, the supposed murderer of C. Arthur Peller, at the Southern Hotel in this city, on the 5th of last April, arrived here about 7 o'clock this morning from San Francisco, in charge of Detective Tracy and Officer Badger, of the St. Louis police force. A crowd of from 2,000 to 3,000 men, women and children were at the depot when the train arrived, and there was A GREAT SCRAMBLE TO GET A VIEW OF THE PRISONER.

But good order was preserved. Maxwell and his custodians were met by Chief of Police Harrigan, with a detachment of police, and were placed in a patrol wagon and driven to Four Courts, where after a short stay the detectives' room in the police headquarters, he was put in "hold over" and is being held under an alias warrant which was sworn out last Friday by proper authority.

Accounts by reporters who rode in from Halesite, Kansas, on the train with Maxwell and had free access to him and to the officers in charge of him, are to the effect that HE ABSOLUTELY REFUSED TO TALK ABOUT HIS CASE.

And positively asserted that he has at no time or place made any statement in regard to it or in any way acknowledged that he had anything to do with Peller's murder or knew anything about it. He says all stories to the contrary are wholly untrue. Detective Tracy also says that Maxwell has made no statement. Maxwell wrote out, while on the train, for the reporter of the Republican, an account of his trip from St. Louis to Ankenla, his arrest there and return trip, but it is a commonplace story of minor events and contains no intimation of interest. Detective Tracy thinks that further developments will show Maxwell to be a weak man mentally, but that he has got one thing wedged into his mind.

THAT HIS SAFETY DEPENDS ON HIS SILENCE. And that he will startle nobody with a romantic defense. Tracy thinks he killed Peller for money, and that the few admissions he made point in that direction; that his voice from St. Louis to Ankenla was a money-spending debauch, and not a well-planned escape from justice, and that it was the luck that attends drunkards and fools that stood him instead, and not any good management of his own.

Maxwell was in Chief Harrigan's office an hour or so this afternoon, and a large number of callers were introduced to him, but nothing regarding his case or what line of defense he will pursue was obtained from him.

RECOGNIZING MAXWELL.

Charles Bieger, the trunkmaker, recognized Maxwell as the man to whom he sold the trunk in which Peller's body was found, at the corner of St. Louis to Ankenla, a sized him as having been a guest at that hotel in April last. Maxwell will be turned over by the police authorities to-morrow to a court and will be placed in jail. What other, if any, legal action will be taken has not yet been determined.

A Fiendish Outrage in Ohio.

SHAWNEE, Ohio, August 16.—Between 1 and 2 o'clock this morning an effort was made to assassinate the family of Hugh Kinney by throwing a hand grenade or bomb into the sleeping chamber. The windows were shattered, walls were wrecked, and large holes torn in the floor. Mr. Kinney was found lying at the foot of the bed badly mangled and bleeding, and Mrs. Kinney was thrown out of the yard and given the alarm. She was badly wounded. Mr. Kinney was looked upon in the community of miners as an inflexible and unpopular man, and the miners, keeping the operators posted on their movements, and he had been threatened. The Village Council held a meeting this afternoon and offered a reward for the apprehension of the perpetrators. The feeling is very high in the community, and it is thought if the parties are found there will be a riot. Mr. Kinney's wife's injuries will not prove fatal, unless the wounds are more serious than now supposed.

The Special Messenger Boy.

WASHINGTON, August 16.—The statement that Chief Examiner Lyman, of the Civil Service Commission, had an interview with the Postmaster-General on the subject of requiring applicants for appointment as postoffice messengers, under the special delivery system about to be inaugurated, to pass a civil service examination, is denied by Mr. Lyman. He says the matter has not yet been formally considered. The manner of appointing the postoffice messengers, who will send the names of the applicants to the Postoffice Department, or to the Civil Service Commission in case the boys are appointed under the Civil Service rules.

Murdered by Tramp Barkey.

NASHVILLE, August 16.—As the south-bound freight train on the Louisville & Nashville Railway, ten miles north of this city, two young negro roustabouts got into a quarrel, and one of them, for the purpose of stealing a ride, they were ordered out by the brakeman, when an altercation arose between the roustabout and the negroes, one of the latter throwing a stone which hit one of the brakemen. The latter chased the negroes up the road and into the cornfield, when the foremost was shot and killed by one of the negroes, both of whom escaped.

Drowned in the Monongahela River.

PITTSBURGH, August 16.—A stiff in which were six boys, ranging in age from 6 to 13 years, capsized in the middle of the Monongahela river, below Lock No. 1, this afternoon, about 4 o'clock, drowning Charles and Mark Rich, Court Ahlers and Jacob Metzler. The other two, Charles Meixner and George Skodlander, succeeded in reaching the shore in safety. The accident happened in sight of hundreds of people, but before rescue could reach the unfortunate lads, they had sunk for the last time.

Threatened the Wrong Man.

NEW ORLEANS, August 16.—A Viennese despatch to the Times-Democrat says: News was received here of the killing at Sunnyside, on the Tallabodine River, last Sunday, of J. A. McMath, manager of John Taylor's Belle Chase plantation, by Dr. Adair, manager of D. W. Durdin's plantation. An old white man, named McMath, was arrested and threatened to shoot him, when Adair shot and killed McMath. Adair was arrested and was subsequently released on $1,000 bail.

The Improvement in the Iron Trade.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., August 17.—The outlook in the iron trade has not been more favorable for a number of years than at present. Signs of improvement are coming to the surface every day, and manufacturers are beginning to concede that the depression is gradually disappearing. Orders are increasing rapidly and many mills are running double time. The worst feature is the existing strike among the millers, which from present indications, does not look as if an amicable settlement of the difficulty was near at hand. The manufacturers have decided to ignore the millers until they accept their terms, while the millers still present a determined front in their demand for last year's scale.

Another Big Strike Inaugurated.

St. Louis, August 17.—Last Friday, there came to this city four members of the general executive committee of the Knights of Labor. The mission of these gentlemen was to have a conference with Col. Talmage, general manager of the Washburn railway, in regard to the relations existing between members of the Knights of Labor and the railroad company, which are said to have been quite amicable for some time being out of the city, the gentlemen were telegraphed requesting him to state where and when a conference could be had.

To this Talmage replied that he saw no reason why he should meet the committee for the purpose named; that he was not aware of any dissatisfaction existing among the employees of the road, and declined to confer with the committee. As an apparent outcome of this there was promulgated to-day at Moberly, Mo., where the Washburn Railway has extensive shops, an official order commanding "all Knights of Labor of the Washburn at all points to quit work on Tuesday, August 18th, at 12 o'clock noon, and to remain out until further orders from the General Executive Board." The order is signed by Frederick Turner, secretary of the board.

The order has created quite a sensation in Moberly, and the strike ordered is looked upon as one of the most serious for many years.

A Steamboat Explosion—Several Injured.

PHILADELPHIA, August 17.—An explosion on the steamer "T. W. Fulton" occurred just after she had left her dock, and on her trip to Wilmington, Del. As she was opposite pier No. 8, south wharves, the passengers and crew were startled by an explosion, which shook the boat from stem to stern.

When the smoke cleared away it was found that the entire forward part of the vessel above the water line had been badly damaged and a number of the passengers injured, some severely. The pilot house and entire upper deck presented a scene of complete wreck. Tugs proceeded at once to the scene of the disaster and commenced pumping out the water. The tug "Stinky," which was lying near by, at once proceeded to remove the injured.

An ambulance of the Pennsylvania hospital soon arrived and took most of the injured to that institution. The injured, so far as known are: John C. McDann, aged 9 years, severely injured about the legs; Silas Bradley, ankle dislocated; Samuel Cooper, injured about the head and body. The steamer is owned by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company.

A Thoroughbred "Mill."

BRAIDWOOD, Ills., August 17.—A prize fight took place five miles east of here at daylight this morning between Adam Patterson, a saloon keeper, and George Mulvey, a miner, both from Braceville a small town near here, for a purse of $500, in which Mulvey knocked out Patterson in 128 rounds. At 2 o'clock this morning the sports began to leave for the scene of the fight. Every available conveyance was put in use, and the crowd assembled at the corners of Wills, Grundy and Kankakee counties. The stars were driven just across the line in Kankakee county. At 5:15 about 800 people had assembled, when time was called. The men fought according to the London prizefight rules, with five-ounce hand gloves. Both men weighed about 185 pounds. Patterson is slightly faster than his opponent. At the commencement of the fight he was given in favor of Patterson, but after the fiftieth round Mulvey was favorite; although he got some very hard knocks he punished his opponent severely, and when the 128th round was called Patterson was so exhausted he was unable to speak, but shook his head. His second had to lift him up to make him come to the scratch. When the 128th round was called Patterson was so exhausted he was unable to speak, but shook his head. The Quebec delegates will go by the inter-colonial route with members of the French press representing several Paris papers. The delegation will investigate the commerce and agriculture of the Dominion. Some of them may settle in Canada, while others will look for profitable investment in railways, industries, etc.

The Italian scheme contemplates securing control over Eastern Sudan, and the use of Khartoum as the capital. If Sir Henry Drummond Wolff, who has been sent as a special envoy from England to Constantinople and Cairo, for the purpose of perfecting arrangements for the future management of Egyptian affairs, fails to bring the Sultan to terms, it is believed that England will sign an agreement with Italy which will leave the latter power free to carry out her plans as outlined above.

EX-JUDGE TURNER.

He Dies by His Own Hand in San Francisco. One of the Olden Told On Him by Old Constables.

A telegram announces the death by suicide in San Francisco of ex-United States District Judge George Turner, of Virginia, who was afterward Chief Justice in Nevada in the early sixties. While the deceased was held by some to be an upright judge, others were not few who entertained an entirely different opinion, and the following anecdote, which used to be told of him, will indicate this opinion.

An important case, involving a very valuable Comstock mine, came before the Supreme Court in Carson for final adjudication. It was in the flush times on the great gold, and hundreds of thousands of dollars were spent by the parties to each side, in suborning witnesses, feeing lawyers, corrupting juries, and even the bench. The decision was drawn up, but had not been rendered. The Chief Justice was met on the streets by one of the parties litigant.

"I understand," said this party, "that you have drawn up a decision awarding the mine to my opponent."

"I have," replied the Chief Justice. "Didn't you get $15,000 in gold coin to decide in my favor?"

"Yes
